Microsoft Unified Communications & Collaboration – Get Better Results, Faster

Think of the savings your organisation could achieve if:

- Dispersed teams could work more effectively together
- The right information was available faster
- Travel time for meetings was minimised
- Inboxes were manageable

Connect With Us

In this issue of Microsoft Ireland Connect you will find insights into the power of Microsoft Unified Communications & Collaboration with an exciting account from eircom on how they are using these solutions to make significant cost savings and realise their business objectives.

We have organised an event in Dublin on November 13th to enable you to hear about the benefits that Irish organisations have achieved through the use of Microsoft Unified Communications & Collaboration tools and I would strongly encourage you to register your place today.

Your feedback is always really valuable so please don't hesitate to contact me by replying to this email on this or any other topic.
